All our puppies have been socialised from birth, it is very important that you continue this when you bring home your newest family member.

It is strongly recommended that you enrol your puppy in puppy obedience classes as soon as possible.

If no-one is at home during the day, it is vital that you provide your puppy with toys and games to keep them stimulated. Labradoodles are intelligent dogs and may take a long time to mature. A bored dog is a destructive dog. Stuffed toys and Kong balls are good for this (although watch the food intake if you use treat balls)

Your puppy will not naturally use his bed as a toilet. All our puppies are trained to use pads and small artificial grass toilets. These are moved around so that the puppy associates the pad/toilet with toileting rather than the place.

There may be accidents when you bring your new puppy home. Make sure you leave LOTS of pads around when they first come home. Gradually reduce the amount of pads and change location every day. Encourage your dog to toilet outside and praise them when they do. Punishment has no part in toilet training and is ineffective.

Your puppy has been fed on:

- Lactose free milk
- High quality kibble (Black Hawk is the least processed and is what we use)
- Good quality chicken, rice and vegetable roll from the butcher. It is preservative free
- Preservative free human quality mince

It is not recommended that you feed your puppy on supermarket cans and rolls because they contain preservatives and have been highly processed.

We sincerely hope that you get many years of companionship from your newest family member.
